

INSPIRED INTERIORS & Radical Radiators

SUMMER 2019

INTRODUCING: PANIO 600 VERTICAL TUBE FLAT PANEL RADIATOR

Don't settle for ordinary, bring your living space to life with our new Panio 600 Vertical Tube Flat Panel Radiator.

Interior design has come a long way in a short space of time, with more and more style-conscious homeowners taking inspiration from YouTube videos and TV shows when it comes to their heating options. Gone are the days of making do with a boring, old, conventional white steel radiator.

Now there are a host of stylish, bespoke designer options on the market which can help you get the most out of your wall space and create features with a wow factor.

Our new Panio 600 Vertical Tube Flat Panel Radiator will help you do just that. This stylish, flat panel radiator is a fantastic alternative to more traditional horizontal models and can be fitted under windows or across walls to bring a touch of class to your room. Available in either single or duplex and finished in white or anthracite, this radiator will help finish any room with a flourish of sophistication.

Of course, its primary purpose is to heat your space and with impressive BTU output of up to 4,864, the radiator can kick out enough heat to create the cosiest of spaces, however big your room is.

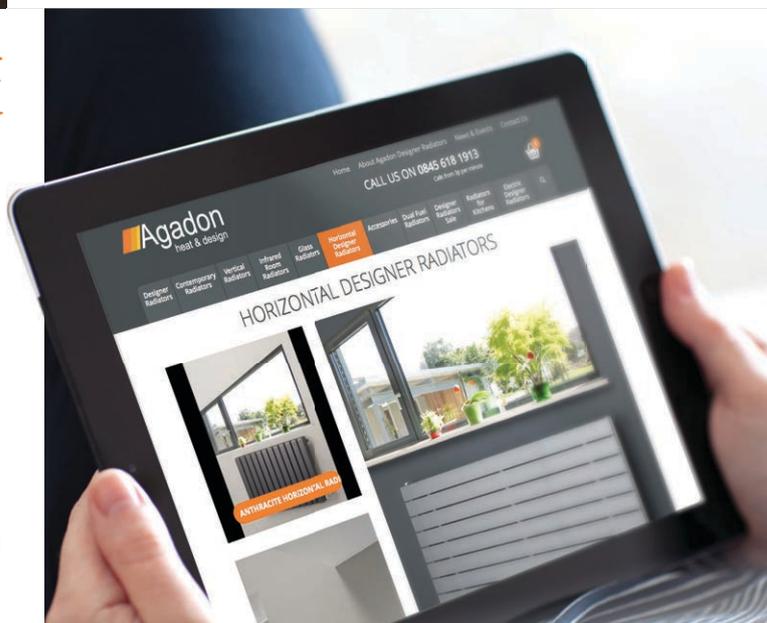

AGADON LAUNCHES NEW WEBSITE

We're delighted to announce that our new website, www.agadondesignerradiators.co.uk is now live.

It has been redesigned to improve the overall customer experience and showcase our full range of high quality, stylish and contemporary designer radiators.

We have extensive experience of the designer heating market and offer the largest range of Italian-designed radiators in the UK. Because we manufacture, we cut out the wholesaler, meaning we can pass the savings to our customers and offer the best prices on the market.

As well as showcasing our full product range, our new website is the home of expert advice and support to help you choose the right radiator for every room in your home. We can specify the right radiator and heat capacity for your space, so you can get the most out of your product and create the perfect, cosy living area.

DESIGNER RADIATORS FOR LIVING ROOMS

KITCHEN RADIATOR IDEAS

Our customers often ask for kitchen radiator ideas, for inspiration.

They want to know how to transform their cooking space into an environment which encourages creativity. The kitchen is often the busiest space in the home, meaning design can often be sacrificed for function.

These days, most kitchens are jam packed with gadgets, technology and modern appliances.

Often, there'll be a breakfast bar or island to help the space double-up as an eating area. And with work surfaces and cupboard units at floor and eye level taking up a lot of space, keeping your kitchen warm, and bringing in a bit of design flourish, can be tricky.

That's where a bit of clever thinking can help, because a designer kitchen radiator can help transform even the scruffiest-looking kitchen into a warm and welcoming space to help you to unleash your culinary flair.

Designer tube radiators from leading brands like Titan and NEO bring a bold and rustic look to your kitchen, while if you're looking for something a bit more understated, a Panio flat panel vertical radiator may be a better choice.

And if space is an issue, we also offer a full range of contemporary, slim-fit horizontal radiators which can utilise smaller wall space such as under windows, without sacrificing the configuration of your kitchen units.

When it comes to designer radiators for living rooms, we offer the widest choice of options, to help you get it right.

After all, for most families, the living room is the heart of the home, the place to spend time together, chill out, laugh and socialise.

So, why wouldn't you want it to not only look great, but offer a warm, cosy, comforting environment on which to spend time with those you love?

A designer radiator can be the key to achieving that. Whether you're looking for a focal point which adds a real wow factor, or something more subtle which blends in with your overall décor to bring a touch of sophistication to the room, we have a full range of designer radiators for living rooms to help you find your perfect option.

Whatever your taste – bold and brash, stylish and contemporary, or sleek and modern, we have a radiator to match your personality.

We aim to bring our customers the best range of boutique radiators, at affordable prices, to help you make your house a home.

If you're after something super-stylish, our range of flat panel vertical radiators come in a range of sizes and finishes, meaning they can either blend in or stand out, depending on the effect you are looking for.

For those who want to be brave and bold, we offer a range of designer glass radiators, which can be custom printed or coloured, to create a style that is unique to you.

And if space is tight, or if you prefer something more traditional, we also have a range of contemporary designer radiators for living rooms which are slimline, adaptable and can help you optimise your floorspace while keeping your room nice and toasty.

ARE TOWEL RADIATORS ANY GOOD?

When it comes to heating your bathroom, a common question we hear is 'are towel radiators any good'?

Heating your bathroom presents a different challenge to keeping the other rooms in your home warm. It has different – and quite specific – heating requirements. Space can often be at a premium, and the room can be damp or humid, and quite often, you may use the bathroom to get dressed or undressed in, meaning it needs to be warm and welcoming at those crucial times of day, first thing in the morning and just before bedtime.

What you do with your wet towels after bathing or showering is a whole other issue. Drying them out quickly so they don't harbour germs or bacteria is a must, which makes choosing the right form of heating essential. Heated towel rails are a practical option which work well in bathrooms of all sizes. They utilise space better as they are designed to fit vertically, rather than standing proud like most horizontal radiators, to help keep all your towels warm, fluffy and dry.

HIGH OUTPUT VERTICAL RADIATORS

High output vertical radiators are key to keeping your home at the ideal temperature, all year round.

While summer may only just be upon us, there's no better time to plan ahead to make sure your home is nice and toasty for the winter.

With a high output vertical radiator, you can maximise your space, integrate a stylish design flourish into your décor, but also ensure it will heat your room properly.

But how do you know what to look for?

The technical term for describing the heat output of a radiator is a BTU rating.

The higher a radiator's BTU, the hotter it will get. If you're looking for a high output vertical radiator, you want one with a heat output of at least 7,000 BTUs.

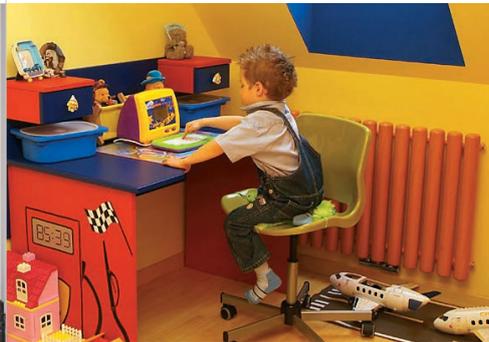

If you like it hot, we offer a range that exceed 9,000 BTUs, which will keep things nice and cosy on those cold winter nights.

Determining how hot you need your radiator to be is another question altogether, as the size of your room will have a big impact on the BTU level you need to get optimum heating performance.

Although 7,000 BTUs will be sufficient to heat most spaces, the shape and layout of your room can determine the best radiators to choose.

BEST BEDROOM RADIATORS

When it comes to choosing the best bedroom radiators, there are many things to consider.

Design, space and heating requirements all come into play. You might want your bedroom to be a warm, cosy and relaxing space, in which to unwind after a long day.

Or, you might want to let your creativity run wild and decorate your room in a way that captures the unique essence of your personality.

Likewise, if you have children, you may want to fire their imagination by incorporating bold, brash and colourful features into their room.

So, when you need the best bedroom radiators for the job in hand, we've got you covered. It's the smallest details that make the biggest difference when it comes to decorating your home.

Upgrading your radiator to something that's modern, sleek and stylish is a subtle change that can have a huge impact.

We offer a full range of contemporary designer flat panel radiators that can enhance your room and complement your décor to help you create that perfect haven to escape the stresses of daily life.

And if you want something that's truly unique, then a bespoke, customisable designer radiator that can be personalised with a choice of finishes, colours and styles, will help you to make a statement.

WHAT ARE THE BEST BATHROOM RADIATORS FOR HEAT OUTPUT?

Your bathroom is the place you need to be toasty and warm at all times, so what are the best bathroom radiators for heat output?

This boils down to two choices – do you want to go for a designer bathroom radiator, or a vertical towel warmer that will provide enough heat to keep the room warm as well?

For larger rooms, or those with more available space, the former is a good bet.

You can strategically incorporate stylish, horizontal flat panel bathroom radiators into your overall design or a contemporary finish that not only looks great, but provides all the heat output you need.

We have a full range of bathroom radiators producing output of 7,000 BTU or more, which should be ample for keeping things nice and cosy.

For smaller bathrooms and en suites, or those where wall space is at a premium, a vertical heated towel dryer is a good choice.

These tend to take up less width as they are installed vertically instead, and run from floor to ceiling to provide a more even source of heat. They also come in a range of colours and finishes, including chrome, to add a stylish touch to any bathroom design.

Creating a great-looking bathroom should be limited only by your imagination, not by your radiator.

SMALL COLOURED RADIATORS CAN BRING YOUR ROOM TO LIFE

Just because your space is small, doesn't mean it has to be boring. A small coloured radiator can be the key to unlocking its full potential.

When space is at a premium, only a clever solution will do. That means maximising the available space to get the biggest bang for your buck. That's where small coloured radiators come in.

Whether you're looking to utilise the unused space under your windows better, or have a tight fit, our clever designer radiators can provide the ideal solution to your problem.

We stock a full range of slim, horizontal, flat panel, tube and solid radiators which are perfect for heating small spaces without sacrificing on space.

They can be completely customised in a wide range of colours and finishes to create as big a splash as you want. Whatever your requirement, we can help you find the perfect small coloured radiator to bring your room to life.

CONSIDER VERTICAL CHROME RADIATORS FOR A STYLISH FINISH

Vertical chrome radiators are usually found in the bathroom, but there's no reason why you can't install one in other living spaces to add that special flourish.

Conventional white steel radiators are boring. With the range of contemporary designer radiators expanding all the time, more and more home owners are becoming more adventurous by incorporating them into their interior design.

Who says chrome has to stay in the bathroom? It's a stylish, functional finish that is more interesting than plain old white, adding colour and texture to drab and dreary walls.

Vertical chrome radiators can really freshen up your living room and, thanks to their highly-reflective surface, give the illusion of more space and can reflect light in many interesting ways to create different moods throughout the day.

When the sun's shining, they help to flood your living room with natural daylight, while at night, you can soften the mood and create a warm and relaxing glow. So, if you want to give your living space a fresh twist, why not see how a vertical chrome radiator can bring your room to life?
